The Court ordered us to meet and confer with Mr. Egan telephonically. If, according to you, he does not want to speak with us, we will inform the Court of our efforts and your response on his behalf. So it is clear, you are refusing to provide us with a valid email address or telephone number for Mr. Egan and preventing us from contacting him directly.

Put your message to him into email format and I will forward it on as a meet and confer. He is not amenable to speaking with you over the telephone. I don't blame him.
